Christmas Celebrations

Hangings of the Greens

Sunday, December 3 is the first Sunday of Advent. At both worship services, we will hang the traditional greens to complete the decoration of the Fellowship Hall and the sanctuary for the season. This is a wonderful time for the First Baptist family and friends to begin the Advent journey together.

Christmas Dinner

Sunday evening, December 10 from 5-8 pm is First Baptist's annual Christmas dinner. Come prepared for a lovely meal with turkey, ham, and beverages provided by the church, and wonderful side dishes and desserts prepared by you and your First Baptist friends.

First Baptist celebrates the annual church Christmas dinner in 2015.

Breaking News!

Our dinner this year will feature "Breaking News!," a newscast of events that happened on the night of Jesus' birth presented by First Kids. The children will rehearse Sunday, December 3 at 4 pm in the sanctuary. There will also be an extra fun bonus rehearsal on Saturday, December 9 from 9:30-11 am.

Staff Open House

On Wednesday, December 20 from 3-6 pm the First Baptist staff is hosting an open house at the home of Michael and Carol McEntyre at 1604 Brady Place. As a staff, we feel grateful to serve at First Baptist. This is our way of saying "thank you!" Thank you, First Baptist, for being so good to us and for making our job easy!

Christmas Eve Worship

The ultimate celebration will be the Christmas Eve worship service, the most beautiful hour of the year. We celebrate the coming of Christ with the singing of carols, the telling of the Christmas story, and the tradition of sharing the light with candles to the strains of "Silent Night." The service is a wonderful "homecoming" for all. It's also the easiest time to invite others to worship with you, so bring family and friends to join in worship in the sanctuary at 11 pm.

The Value of Family Rituals

How do we pass on our faith to children? This is a question that parents and pastors care deeply about. We want our children to know and love God as much as we do. We want them to have moral grounding and to have a faith that will carry them through life's difficulties. But what is the best way to communicate faith? Faith that sticks is best caught, not just taught. Which means we need to ask, how do we make our faith contagious?

Rituals can help. Thomas Groome, the director of the Institute of Religious Education and Pastoral Ministry at Boston College, gives some great examples. He suggests that the family table is a great place to start. Consider beginning the meal with a simple prayer exercise like this one: "Let's all pick one thing to say thank you to Holy God for." Or establish a bed time ritual - every night before your kids go to sleep, put your arms around them and say, "God loves you. I love you. Sleep well." Groome writes, "Do that every night for the next ten years, and you'll have children knowing they are deeply loved by their parents and by God."

I would add another suggestion to his list. Create family faith rituals around the seasons of the church year. This is one of the reasons the church staff wanted to do an intergenerational Advent Wreath workshop. Our hope was that families would create an Advent Wreath that they would pull out and use each Christmas season year after year. Consider placing your wreath on your dining room table. Before you eat each night, light the appropriate candle and say a prayer. Rituals help ground children in the faith. If you use your Advent Wreath in home worship for the next 10 years, then when your kids leave home the Christmas season will seem incomplete without it and without the God it points to!

The group will be presenting a terrific concert of songs about “peace,” seasonal carols, a sing-a-long, and of course, the famous bell carol – “Hark, hear the bells...” It will be fun for all ages! It’s always a seasonal favorite when this group rings in the holidays, so plan to join us and root on First Baptist participants, Noah Hartsfield, Anna Provo (now playing percussion in the Awakening Praise Band) and Ed Rollins. Tickets are $7 in advance, $10 at the door, and only $1 for kids 12 and under.

VAC Family Sponsorship

Voluntary Action Center (VAC) is a non-profit that exists to help low-income individuals and families bridge the gaps between crisis and stability and improve quality of life in Boone County. Each year VAC coordinates the collection and distribution of food and gifts for approximately 4,000 people during the holiday season.

Voluntary Action Center

the heart of service
in Boone County

First Baptist is participating in the VAC holiday program by sponsoring 3 families. In addition to toys, books, and games, families often receive needed clothing and household supplies through this program. The cards listing the items that our families have requested are located on the bulletin board, in the hallway, outside the Sanctuary. Get involved by choosing an item that you would like to donate, take the card, bring item backed wrapped and attach the card to the outside of the package.

If you aren't able to go shopping but would still like to help, you can make a donation to First Baptist Church with "VAC Family Christmas" in the memo line. Gifts will be collected through December 10. If you have any questions, you can contact Michael McEntyre, Associate Pastor of Youth, College and Young Adults, and Missions, at mmcentyre@fbc-columbia.org.

“Return Service Requested”

We don't choose to have fear any more than we choose to be hungry or cold or thirsty. We are human and we are vulnerable. In a broken world with plenty of real dangers, fear is normal and natural. But excessive fear takes the joy out of life. Come explore how to follow Jesus in a culture of fear.

Our Advent theme this year comes from a line in a hymn by Brian Wren, which says, “When God is a child there's joy in our song. The last shall be first and the weak shall be strong, and none shall be afraid.” This Advent, come contemplate how the birth of Jesus invites us to move from a culture of fear to a place of more hope, more peace, more love and more joy!
